What Are Cookies

As with nearly all professional websites, this site uses cookies, which are small files downloaded to your device, to enhance your experience. This page describes what information they collect, how we use it, and why we sometimes need to store these cookies. We will also explain how you can prevent these cookies from being stored, though this may downgrade or 'break' certain elements of the site's functionality.

How We Use Cookies

We use cookies for various reasons detailed below. Unfortunately, in most cases, there are no industry-standard options for disabling cookies without completely disabling the functionality and features they add to this site. It is recommended to leave on all cookies if you are not sure whether you need them or not, in case they are used to provide a service that you use.

Disabling Cookies

You can prevent the setting of cookies by adjusting the settings on your browser (see your browser Help for instructions). Be aware that disabling cookies will affect the functionality of this and many other websites that you visit. Disabling cookies will usually result in also disabling certain functionality and features of this site. Therefore, it is recommended that you do not disable cookies.

The Cookies We Set

Forms Related Cookies: When you submit data through a form, such as those found on contact pages or comment forms, cookies may be set to remember your user details for future correspondence.

Site Preferences Cookies: To provide you with a great experience on this site, we offer the functionality to set your preferences for how the site runs when you use it. To remember your preferences, we need to set cookies so that this information can be recalled whenever you interact with a page affected by your preferences.

Third-Party Cookies

In some special cases, we also use cookies provided by trusted third parties. The following section details which third-party cookies you might encounter through this site.

Testing New Features:

From time to time, we test new features and make subtle changes to the way the site is delivered. When we are testing new features, these cookies may be used to ensure that you receive a consistent experience while on the site, ensuring we understand which optimizations our users appreciate the most.

More Information

We hope this has clarified things for you. As previously mentioned, if there is something that you aren't sure whether you need or not, it's usually safer to leave cookies enabled in case it interacts with one of the features you use on our site.
